ATLANTA, Ga., August 10, 2026 — UniPro Foodservice, a leading voice for independent foodservice distributors nationwide, is pleased to announce Provisions Energy & Marine Support as its newest Member, further strengthening UniPro's network of independent foodservice distributors.

Based in Louisiana, Provisions Energy & Marine Support is an offshore and marine supply distributor serving customers throughout the Gulf Coast. Owned by Carolyn Doerle and led by Chris Lee, the company brings extensive foodservice distribution experience and a strong understanding of the specialized needs of offshore and marine customers. Building on the Doerle family's longstanding connection to the UniPro family, Provisions joins the cooperative with a commitment to remaining independent, strengthening industry relationships, and leveraging UniPro's resources to support continued growth.

"We are excited to welcome Provisions Energy & Marine Support to the UniPro family," said Bob Stewart, UniPro Foodservice CEO. "Carolyn, Chris, and their team bring tremendous industry experience and a strong commitment to serving their customers. Provisions' focus on independence, relationships, and growth aligns well with who we are as a cooperative, and we look forward to supporting their continued success."

As a Proud Member of UniPro, Provisions will have access to the cooperative's extensive network of Supplier partners, along with purchasing programs, business solutions, marketing resources, technology, education, and industry expertise. UniPro's flexible and responsive approach allows us to adapt to the unique needs of our Members and support them as their businesses grow and evolve.

The addition of Provisions reflects UniPro's continued commitment to strengthening the independent foodservice distribution community by connecting Members with the resources, relationships, and opportunities that help them succeed in an evolving marketplace.
