DECO Foodservice Joins UniPro, Building on More Than 50 Years of Family-Owned Distribution

ATLANTA, GA – November 6, 2026 – UniPro Foodservice, Inc. is pleased to welcome DECO Foodservice back to the cooperative. The family-owned distributor, based in Needles, California, has served independent foodservice businesses throughout the California, Arizona, and Nevada tri-state region for more than 50 years.

Founded in 1973, DECO Foodservice is now in its third generation of family leadership. The company has built its business around personal service and a longstanding commitment to the communities it serves.

Originally established by Larry and Pamela DeAtley as a small meat processing facility and dairy distributorship, DECO has grown to offer a broad selection of foodservice products. Today, the company supplies restaurants, cafés, bakeries, shops, and convenience stores throughout the region.

"We're pleased to renew our partnership with DECO Foodservice and welcome their team back to UniPro," said Ed Delaney, Senior Vice President of Business Development & Integration for UniPro Foodservice. "Their longstanding commitment to independent operators reflects the values we share, and we look forward to supporting their continued success."

Through its UniPro membership, DECO Foodservice gains access to the cooperative's purchasing programs and Supplier relationships, providing additional resources to support its business and the customers it serves.
